Tribune Baseball Tourney
Will Get Under Way
Next Tuesday.

BATTLE FOR MEDALS SURE TO BE KEEN

Eighty-four Teams Entered, with Washington Heights District
Carrying Off Palm.

The Tribune baseball tournament under the direction of the Public Schools Athletic League will get under way on Tuesday.

On that date the 84 elementary school teams, or most of them at least, will take the field and begin the race for the gold, silver and bronze medals, the prizes for the winners and runners up in the five boroughs of Greater New York.

In arranging the schedules for the competition in the five boroughs, the athletic directors of the Public Schools Athletic League have been very busy.

For conditions in each of the five boroughs are different. In Manhattan, for example, there are five athletic districts, but there will be an elimination series in only three of them.

In the future in years past the boys in the downtown districts have been beaten many times by the uptown boys. Not because they had less eligible material to draw from, but because the boys uptown had places to practice that were nearer the homes.

So it happened that the district that embraces the Washington Heights section has the biggest entry, five teams. But there is an exception. Down in district number 2, in perhaps the most congested section in all New York, there are three teams entered in the competition. One of these is from Public School No. 20, the first to secure the Tribune uniforms and equipment.

Interest in the contest is keen, take Tattersall's word for that. And these downtown teams that have no playground or park near at hand make trips to the diamonds in Van Cortlandt Park for their practice games. And they are all fit and ready to enter the tournament.

Not only are they fit and ready to enter the tournament, but they are also interested in the contest.

And this makes for spirit, for there are many boys who will put in more effort toward standing well in their classes if they know that by so doing they may play on a team, provided they can make that team.

Eighteen teams will compete for the borough elementary Public Schools Athletic League championship in the Bronx. This field is so large that it has been divided into two sections, the upper and the lower. Thirty games are on the schedule of the upper section and the diamonds will be worked over between the opening day and the closing day, when all sectional games must be over.

While the schedule calls for games only on Tuesdays and Thursdays, rain and wet grounds will cause some of the games that would take place even a National League schedule committee. In the lower section the eleven teams will have almost as busy a time, although there are nine teams on the list.

The largest number of teams to take the field will be in Brooklyn, for there they will have the use of many diamonds in Prospect Park and the Public Schools Athletic League field at Avenue K and East 17th st. Thirty-two teams are entered for the Brooklyn honors, and the races promise to be the keenest in the history of the league.

Perhaps one of the busiest districts in the competition will be the No. 8, known as the Washington League, in which 10 teams are entered. Next come the schoolboys of Queens, with ten teams in the field, and thanks to the greater space for early spring training, they are ready to begin the season right now.

In Richmond seven teams will fight it out for the borough laurels.

After the various districts have battled on the diamonds for a while, they will complete their schedules, the winners in each will meet in a series for the borough championship. The date for this will be arranged later. Then will come the real battle for the Tribune medals.

Schedule of the Games in
Tribune Baseball Tourney

As there are only three athletic districts in the Borough of Manhattan that will compete in the earlier rounds of the Tribune baseball tournament, the others, New York, Richmond, Queens and Brooklyn, will arrange their own schedules until the teams meet in the sectional games.

In Brooklyn two districts have arranged a list of competitions, as follows:
